

TERRI'S NEWS ALERT

Nine Years Ago Today, Terri Schiavo Dies After 13 Days Without Food and Water

It was nine years ago today, March 31, 2005, that after almost two-weeks without food and water, Terri Schiavo died. Despite pleas from Terri's family to be at her side knowing she was close to death, Michael Schiavo refused. In fact, he had Terri's brother and sister removed from her room by the armed police that were guarding her.

From March 31, 2005 (Fox News) – Terri Schiavo died Thursday morning around 10 a.m. EST after her parents had plead with her husband Michael Schiavo to allow them to be at their brain-damaged daughter's bedside in her final hours, a spokesman for the family said.

Schiavo died heading into her 14th day without food and water amid what could be the final legal setback for her parents after the U.S. Supreme Court refused again to hear their plea to reinsert Schiavo's feeding tube. Wednesday night's decision came hours after a federal appeals court declined to hold another hearing on the issue.

\(continue reading...\)

National Memorial Mass for Terri's Day!

Terri Schiavo Life & Hope Network announces the, "International Day of Prayer and Remembrance for Terri Schindler Schiavo, and All of Our Vulnerable Brothers and Sisters," (Terri's Day!), which is typically observed each year on March 31, the anniversary of Terri's death. This year's Terri's Day Memorial Mass will be held on Monday, March 31, 2014, at the Chapel of the Cathedral Basilica of Saints Peter & Paul located at 18th Street & Benjamin Franklin Parkway, Philadelphia. The mass will be celebrated by Archbishop Charles Chaput, Archbishop of the Diocese of Philadelphia, beginning at 5:00 p.m. All are invited to attend.

