

Abortion death charges

A doctor and two nurses appeared in court yesterday charged with the manslaughter of an Irish woman who died hours after having an abortion. Aisha Chithira, 32, was 22 weeks pregnant when she travelled from the Republic of Ireland to a clinic in London for the operation. Dr Adedayo Adedeji, 63, Gemma Pullen, 32, and Margaret Miller, 54, were charged with manslaughter by gross negligence. They were bailed to appear at the Old Bailey on July 3.
