

28th July 2016

Daily Telegraph

Brexit goals

SIR – Most of the discussion about Brexit is focusing on immigration and a possible trade deal with the EU.

While these are important, I believe Brexit involves much more than this. For example: restoring the supremacy of Parliament; restoring our fishing boundaries; providing appropriate funding for farming; and making trade agreements with the rest of the world.

We should seek to remove EU laws that are inappropriate for us, reach an agreement on the status of expats, and get our MEPs to stand down.

Jeremy Smith

Stroud, Gloucestershire