

Black blood donor plea

The NHS has issued an urgent appeal for more black people to give blood in order to help meet growing demand. Some patients require blood to be matched particularly closely and in such cases it is most likely to be found in someone of the same ethnicity. Just 1 per cent of people who give blood in England are black. Potential donors can register at blood.co.uk or call 0300 123 23 23.
